

Christmas concert date

CAROLS composed by a leading light in the region's music circles feature in the programme for Staveley Choral Society's A Christmas Celebration concert. Pieces by musician and Pro Nobis musical director Clive Walkley will be performed by the choristers along with many other works and readings on Monday (December 13, 7.30pm) at Staveley Village Hall. Also playing will be Queen Katherine School Year 13 student Tom Buckler, playing trumpet solos, and pupils from Staveley C of E Primary School (pictured left) will sing three items, one of which will be a combined piece with the choir - All My Heart This Night Rejoices - by Roger Jones. Sue Osmaston conducts. Tickets are available from Staveley Post Office, Woofs and at the door.
